I had the pleasure of introducing Guy to Fran. They went on a blind date and we all know what happened after that. Guy did love football which someone commented earlier. Guy was called BEAST in high school, and thats exactly what he was. Guy Battiest (my friend) came to visit me in the hospital when I had cancer. I will always love you, Guy, and the memories we had together. My heart goes out to Fran and their incredible family as well as to Eric (Chief) and their father.

We had so much fun together playing football on the weekends when we were in our 20's. I distinctly remember playing one day in the rain. We were standing face to face in the huddle. His long hair was wet, he was covered with mud, and he had a certain wild look in his eyes. I remember thinking "this guy loves this game". He was having so much fun. Guy was a good-hearted person and a great friend. My wife and I will always love him. We were blessed to have him in our lives. Our thoughts and prayers are with Fran and family.

Guy was one of our favorite people. Whenever he and Fran visited he always helped with some kind of project. From splitting wood to rolling out hay for the cows he always wanted to chip in. He will be so missed. Gone too soon. We love you Guy.
