Darrell was an incredible person. A best friend to all of us, he always knew how to brighten anyone's mood on the worst of days. I wish I had the words to properly express how dearly we'll all miss his contagious laugh and random antics. He was a light in the darkness for everyone who knew him and I'm proud to have had the privilege of knowing him. Thank you for everything buddy, I'm going to miss you every day. Godspeed my friend, until we meet again.

Darrell was my best friend. It's hard to put into words the storm of emotions brewing in my heart, but today, Thanksgiving, is hard without him. Darrell, I am thankful for every single second I was generously granted with you. Every smile we shared, every memory we made, all the way down to the random objects you'd give me as gifts. If you would've told me even just a month ago that a tractor piston you found at work and gave to me randomly was the most important possession I own I would've laughed at you. From the day I found out what happened, that sentiment has shifted. Your friends and family are going to make you proud big man. We're all carrying your legacy, and it's going to go far. In your own words brother, "Fuck it, we'll do it live."
