My heart aches to hear the news of Shirleys passing. Some of my earliest childhood memories include her & Ken at a time when she so graciously took me in, during my families time of need. Through the years, I was blessed to know her granddaughter Kim who'd help keep us connected, and then when I'd pop in to say hello, she'd embrace me like we never skipped a beat! She was even who I returned too when gathering childhood pics for my wedding. Such a loving, remarkable woman who reflected so much love. Her kindness made the world a better place, and I send my deepest condolences to her children & family.

Ken and Shirley were my virtual parents while I was attending Kent State 1997-2001. At least once a month I would drive up and sit in their living room and tell them about how school was going and hear their take on the world while they fed me precious home cooked meals. 20 years later I can still see their smiling faces, their house, furniture and can picture every turn on the drive up to see them. Since graduation I have never forgot the kindness they showed me over those formative years. It was freely given and they received nothing in return besides helping a kid out. It is tragic to loose good people to time but I am happy knowing they lived a good life and are together again. Rest In Peace
